

Curtis D. Spencer Biography
2009

Mr. Curtis D. Spencer is the President of IMS Worldwide, Inc. (IMSW), headquartered in Houston, Texas. Mr. Spencer is a nationally regarded expert on matters related to:

- logistics and intermodal shipping trends, ports, inland ports and rail served logistics centers
- the development and utilization of Foreign-Trade Zones for importers and exporters
- all aspects of Custom's issues and compliance, specifically those related to Homeland Security

Mr. Spencer is featured as a speaker at national conferences and workshops and has been published in the The Journal of Commerce, Pacific Shipper, Inbound Logistics and other newsmagazines. Mr. Spencer has been the keynote or featured speaker at annual events sponsored by the following associations: RILA, JOC, ULI, NAIOP, SIOR, AAEL, NAFTAZ, AAAE, CSCMP, WERC, ICSC, the San Antonio Inland Ports Conference, and others, on a regional and international scale. Mr. Spencer has recently completed his term on the 9th and 10th COAC Committee, with oversight/advisory responsibilities on Customs and the Department of Homeland Security. IMS Worldwide, under Mr. Spencer's leadership, is now a leading consulting firm for developers and real estate trusts who seek his guidance as it relates to property value, port efficiencies and site selection differentiators.